

The Radio Control Club of Detroit

Presents:

The 2010 Mall Show!

Saturday & Sunday, March 20th & 21st

at the Macomb Mall in Roseville

The Radio Control Club of Detroit is a non-profit organization, dedicated to the advancement of model aviation in both youth and adults. Members of the club will have many of their highly crafted and realistic models on display at Roseville's Macomb Mall on March 20th & 21st in the Kohl's Court.

The display will include Scale models of vintage aircraft, World War II and modern era fighters, helicopters and examples of typical R.C. planes. Many club members will be present to explain how the models are constructed and flown and to answer any questions you may have about the hobby. There will also be a R.C. flight simulator present, to get a real feel of what it's like to fly a radio controlled plane.

For additional information about the Radio Control Club of Detroit and their upcoming events, visit their website: www.rccd.org or contact:

Gordon Gibbons (586) 612-3181

Gratiot & Masonic (13 1/2 Mile)
32233 Gratiot Avenue
Roseville, MI 48066

Show Hours:
Saturday 10am-9pm
Sunday 11am-6pm